THE REGION

The Alentejo is the largest wine region in Portugal and also one of the most diverse, comprising eight sub-regions. Its 22,000 hectares of vineyards stretch across plains, hills, and mountains, thriving on distinct soil types: clay, limestone, marble, sand, schist, and granite. The climate is Mediterranean-continental, with greater temperature variations in the inland areas closer to the Spanish border.

WINEMAKING

Fermentation at a controlled temperature of 28°C.

TASTING NOTES

Ruby color wine, with red and black fruit aromas and a hint of chocolate. This is a well-balanced wine, with soft tannins and good freshness.
