THE REGION

The Alentejo is the largest wine region in Portugal and also one of the most diverse, comprising eight sub-regions. Its 22,000 hectares of vineyards stretch across plains, hills, and mountains, thriving on distinct soil types: clay, limestone, marble, sand, schist, and granite. The climate is Mediterranean-continental, with greater temperature variations in the inland areas closer to the Spanish border.

WINEMAKING

7 months ageing both french and american oak barrels

TASTING NOTES

Dark rubi color, with wold berries aromas and dark chocolate suggestions. The 7 months ageing both french and american oak barrels contributes to the great structure of the wine ans the potencial for bottle ageing.
